Scope of the Conference

Indian Institute of Technology - Roorkee is among the foremost of institutes of national importance in higher technological education and in engineering, basic and applied research. Since its establishment, the Institute has played a vital role in providing the technical manpower and know-how to the country and in pursuit of research. The Institute ranks amongst the best technological institutions in the world and has contributed to all sectors of technological development. It has also been considered a trend-setter in the area of education and research in the field of science, technology, and engineering. The Institute has completed 150th year of its existence in October 1996. On September 21, 2001, an Ordinance issued by the Government of India declared it as the nation's fourth Indian Institute of Technology. The ordinance is now converted into an Act by the Parliament to make IIT, Roorkee as an "Institution of National Importance".

National Institute of Technology Patna is the 18th National Institute of Technology created by the Ministry of H.R.D. Government of India after rechristening the erstwhile Bihar College of Engineering Patna on 28. 01. 2004. NIT Patna marked its humble beginning in 1886 with the establishment of pleaders survey training school which was subsequently promoted to Bihar College of Engineering Patna in 1924. This made this institute the 6th Oldest Engineering Institute of India. The institute is situated on the south bank of holy river Ganges behind Gandhi Ghat, one of the most important and reverential places of Patna. The Gandhi Ghat is associated with the immersion of ashes of father of the Nation Mahatma Gandhi in the river Ganges. The campus has a picturesque river view with historic building presenting a spectacle of architectural delight and natural beauty.

We are proud to organize this conference for the sixth consecutive year as an honor for Late. Prof. Vijaya Agarwala. The 6th conference on “Prof. Vijaya Agarwala Memorial Inter National Conference on Microwave Absorbing Materials (VAMMAM-2022)” will held on offline/online mode on 24th-25th August, 2022. The main focus of the conference is to provide the scientific world an insight in the research progress of microwave absorbing materials and techniques for the defense applications. Key aspects include “microwave absorbing materials” and “stealth & communication applications”. The conference aims to provide fruitful knowledge exchange among academicians, industry personnel and scientists coming from the area of defense.

The conference will include invited talks and contributed papers on emerging areas by eminent experts from various academic and research organizations as well as industries. The event will provide a platform that extends great opportunities to all the participants to learn and propagate newer and relevant ideas that will be presented and discussed during the session. In this context, we encourage submission of high-quality research papers. Details have been mentioned in the section

"Topic of Interest" which provides a tentative list, but the area of interest is not limited to these topics.
